

ldayr • Learning Disabilities
Association of York Region

The right to learn, the power to achieve

LDAYR AND EVOKE LEARNING PRESENT:

Workshop Information:

Saturday, October 27, 2012
9:30am-12pm

Students from grade 7-12

Cost:
$65 non-LDAYR members
$50 LDAYR members

includes snacks and refreshments

ldayr • Learning Disabilities
Association of York Region

The right to learn, the power to achieve

United Way of York Region
Member Agency

www.evokelarning.ca

Workshop fees are transferable but non-refundable.

a Workshop for Students

This workshop will help students understand the basic principals of how people learn best and how they can use this knowledge to increase the effectiveness of their own notetaking and study skills. Students will learn to get the most out of their notetaking and study time.

The workshop will address:

- effective research-based notetaking skills
- effective research-based test and exam preparation skills
- effective research-based learning and study strategies
- what we know about learning
- what is executive function
- what are the learning skills students are evaluated on and what do they mean?
- online resources for students
- how to use assistive technology to better support themselves as a student
- why mindset is important and the role it plays in learning
- the value of goal-setting

LDA-York Region
11181 Yonge Street
Richmond Hill, Ontario
(905) 884-7933 EXT. 23

Email: info@ldayr.org
www.ldayr.org